The Qualified Working Disabled (QWD) Program can pay for your Medicare Part A premiums.

Can I get QWD benefits?
You may get QWD benefits if:
■ Your assets are within the QWD asset limits
■ Your income meets the QWD income guidelines and
■ You receive Medicare Part A or are eligible for Medicare Part A.

If you are eligible for any other type of Medical Assistance (MA), you cannot receive QWD.

How do I apply for QWD?
Call, write, or go to the county human services agency in the county where you live and ask to apply for QWD.

What are asset limits for QWD?
Assets are what you own, such as cash, savings accounts, and real estate where you do not live.
A person living alone may own $4,000 in assets.
A married couple or family of 2 or more may own $6,000 in assets.
Some assets that do not count are:
■ Your home
■ A mobile home used as your primary home
■ A prepaid burial fund up to $1,500
■ Burial space items
■ One motor vehicle under certain conditions
■ Certain assets owned by an American Indian.

What do I need to know about Medicare enrollment?
If your income increases and you are told that QWD will stop paying for Medicare Part A, you may enroll within seven months from the date of the notice.
If you do not apply during this seven-month period, you can enroll during open enrollment. Open enrollment is between January 1 and March 31 of each year.
You can enroll in Medicare Part A at the Social Security office near you. If you apply during open enrollment, your coverage will begin the next July 1.
You may also enroll in Medicare Part B, but QWD will only pay the Part A premiums.
