Medical Assistance for Qualified Individuals

This information is effective July 1, 2020, through June 30, 2021.

The Qualified Individuals (QI) Program can help people pay their Medicare Part B premiums. QI is available for a limited time on a first-come, first-served basis.

How can I get QI benefits?

You may get QI benefits if:

- Your assets are within the QI asset limits,
- Your income is within the QI income standards,
- You are enrolled in Medicare Part A and B, and
- You apply while funding is available for the program.

How do I apply for QI?

Call, write or go to the county human services agency in the county where you live and ask to apply for QI.

What are the QI benefits?

QI will pay your Medicare Part B premium if you qualify. If the Part B premium is now deducted from your Social Security check, your check will increase when you get QI. If you are enrolled in Part A, but not in Part B, you will automatically be enrolled in Part B when you get QI.

What are the QI income limits?

QI Gross* Income Limits

Family Size	Monthly Standard
1	$ 1,456
2	1,960
3	2,464
4	2,968
5	3,472

*Social Security gross income is your benefit before premiums or other amounts are deducted.

What are the QI asset limits?

Assets are what you own, such as cash, savings, and non-homestead property. A person living alone may own $10,000 in assets. A married couple or family may own $18,000 in assets.

Some assets that do not count are:

- Your home
- A mobile home used as your primary home
- A prepaid burial fund up to $1,500
- Burial space items
- One motor vehicle under certain conditions
- Certain assets owned by an American Indian

If you live with your spouse, your spouse's income and assets also count, even if your spouse does not want to apply for QI.

If your household includes your stepparent, the income and assets of your stepparent do not count. The income and assets of a child do not count when deciding the eligibility of the child's parents or brothers and sisters.

How do I get more information?

The information here can help you decide if you wish to apply for QI. It does not cover all the program rules. Your county agency will need all the facts about your situation to determine if you are eligible for QI benefits.

Even if you are not sure whether or not you may be eligible, you should apply as soon as possible.
