Medical Assistance is often called MA. You will also hear it called Medicaid.

If you qualify, MA will pay for your current and future medical bills. In some cases, MA will also pay medical bills for the three months before you apply.

How can I show that I am 65 years old or older?
You can show that you are 65 years old or older with a birth certificate or other birth records.

How can I show that I am blind or have a disability?
You can show that you are certified as blind or disabled if you get Social Security Disability (SSDI) or Supplemental Security Income (SSI) checks.

If you do not get SSDI or SSI checks, but believe that you are disabled, your county agency can ask the State Medical Review Team (SMRT) to assess your disability.

Can my disabled child (under age 18) receive MA without counting my income?
Only your child’s income is counted. MA does not count the income of the parent(s) if:

- Your child is certified as disabled by either the Social Security Administration or the State Medical Review Team (SMRT) and
- Your child would get MA if he or she was in a medical institution and
- The home care that your child needs compares to the care given in a medical institution, such as a hospital or nursing home and
- The cost that MA would pay for your child’s home care is less than the cost for care in a medical institution.

Parents whose income is above certain limits are required to pay a contribution toward their child’s MA bills.

How do I apply for MA?
Call, write, or go to the human services agency in the county where you live and ask for a health care program application. You can also print an application from our website at http://mn.gov/dhs/general-public/publications-forms-resources/application-forms/index.jsp.

The day you turn in the completed application helps determine when your MA can begin. You may also give the agency a written statement asking for MA. After that you have 45 days to turn in a complete application.
What are the MA income limits?
If your income is less than the amounts shown below, you may be able to get MA. Your county agency can tell you what is deducted to determine your net income.

What if my income is more than that?
You may still be able to get MA by meeting a spenddown. A spenddown is like an insurance deductible. You are responsible for part of your medical bills, and MA pays the rest. Find your income limit in the next chart. Subtract your income limit from your monthly income. That shows you how much your spenddown could be.

What are assets, and what are the MA asset limits?
Assets are what you own, such as cash, savings and property where you do not live. The asset limit for a person living alone is $3,000. The asset limit for a married couple or a family of two is $6,000. The limit goes up by $200 for each additional person in the family.

Some assets that do not count are these:
- Your home
- A mobile home used as your primary home
- One motor vehicle under certain conditions
- Some assets set aside for burial expenses
- Certain other assets if you are an American Indian
